INTRODUCTION

PURPOSE

1. This Manual was prepared for the use of managers and human resource staff. It is a central information resource, bringing together, for ease of reference, material from existing human resource policies, guidelines, regulations and legislation including the Nunavut Public Service Act and the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. The information compiled in the Manual will, in most cases, allow staff to obtain, from a single source, all the information needed for decision-making, without the requirement to analyze material from several documents. For example, the authorities for human resource management topics such as employee discipline are contained in the Nunavut Public Service Act, the regulations which support that Act, and two collective agreements. Where there are additional information resources such as those from outside benefit carriers, these documents will be referred to in this Manual. The information in this Manual will not contradict the fundamental authorities contained in policy or legislation.

If further clarification of roles is necessary, please consult the Delegation of Authority chart for the respective Department.

PRINCIPLES

2. The Government is committed to the ethical management of a public service that provides the highest quality of programs and services to Nunavummiut.
3. The Government of Nunavut was created as a result of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement. Article 23 of the Agreement contains provisions that bind the Government to achieving representative levels of Inuit employment in the Government's workforce. Existing human resource management practices will conform to the requirements of Pinasuaqtavut and will reflect Inuit societal values in the core Inuit Qaujimajatugangit (I.Q.) principles in the operation of the public service. All future policies and practices will also take this need into account.

Core Principles

- Pijitsirniq. The concept of serving (a purpose or community) and providing for (family and/or community);

- Aajiiqatigiingniq. The Inuit way of decision-making; comparing views and taking counsel;
- Pilimmaksarniq. The passing on of knowledge and skills through observation, doing and practice;
- Piliriqatigiingniq. The concept of collaborative working relationships or working together for a common purpose;
- Avatittinnik Kamattiarniq. The concept of environmental stewardship; understanding that the human community is part of the greater earth or land community;
- Qanuqtuurniq. The concept of being resourceful to solve problems and seeking solutions;
- Tunnganarniq. Fostering good spirit by being open, accepting and inclusive;
- Ikpigusuttiarniq. Caring for others; taking their situations and who they are into account;
- Inuuqatigiitsiarniq. Respect for others and treating all equally are practices the elders have always stressed in their words of advice (uqaujjuusiat). Government practices should promote impartiality.

APPLICATION

4. This Manual applies to all departments and public agencies of the Government of Nunavut listed in Appendix A and B of the Financial Administration Act. The QEC will use the Manual in those areas where it has not established its own policies and procedures and where it has so been directed. The Northwest Territories/Nunavut Workers Compensation Board is excluded.
5. Each section of the Manual will identify employment categories to which the section applies.

DEFINITIONS

6. Wherever definitions of commonly used terms are necessary, each section of the Manual will contain a section defining the appropriate terms.
