

16. Infections with Special Considerations

This section is for storage of resource information on specific microorganisms.

The Communicable Disease Manual has information about occupational health and infection prevention and control for specific infections.

