

Public Service Announcement

Building healthy relationships

Start Date: December 3, 2015 End Date: December 18, 2015

Nunavut-wide 30 sec

The departments of Justice and Family Services will hold workshops on healthy relationships in several communities in December. The workshops will be facilitated by community justice outreach workers (CJOWs) and community social services workers (CSSWs), with support and resources from the Embrace Life Council.

Building healthy relationships is an important step in reducing family violence in our communities. For more information on these workshops, please contact your CJOW. For CJOW contact information, please visit:
