

Public Service Announcement

Inspect your fuel tank to prevent a costly fuel spill

Start Date: June 9, 2021

End Date: September 30, 2021

Nunavut-wide 45 sec.

Each year, the Department of Environment performs fuel tank inspections in Nunavut. The service is provided free of charge as a courtesy to fuel tank owners.

The purpose of these inspections is to prevent fuel spills by ensuring that fuel tanks are in good working condition.

Accidental releases of fuel can be costly. Homeowners are reminded to check their tanks periodically to make sure there are no leaks or other problems.

You may see inspectors in your neighbourhood or near your residence. Inspectors will be sure to comply with COVID-19 protocols.

To request a fuel tank inspection, please email environment@gov.nu.ca or call 867-975-7769 and leave a message. You can choose to have the inspection results sent to you by email or left on your doorstep.

###

Media Contact:

Casey Lessard
Manager of Communications, Education and Outreach
Department of Environment
867-975-7761
CLessard3@gov.nu.ca